Is now in running order, and will grind every day, from sun-rise until sun-set. THE COURT

Continues in session-now on its second week and, we believe, still on the sessions side. The Grand Jury-composed of eleven negroes and bree white men-bave found true bills against on of our honest, industrious and respectable itizens, upon charges connected with the burning of the stores of Robertson and Dubose, and the cases will be tried on Thursday. BAUGH'S RAW BONE SUPER-PHOS-PHATE OF LIME.

Mr. J. N. Rosson, sole agent for South Caro ling for this Fertilizer, now so much esteemed informs our readers, in our advertising column: that he is now receiving his supplies, and is propared to fill all orders. Messrs. PATE & TAYLOR are the agents for Sumter County.

WANDO FERTILIZER.

Mr. ELISHA CARSON, so long and so favorably known to our planting community, is the Agent, for Sumter County, for this native fertilizer, and will be found ready to supply all demands for t. The value of the Wando, and the economy of its use, when compared with any other pro paration which has been tried, has been fully doconstruted in this section, as Mr. Carson is prepared to show.

REMOVAL.

Mr. JALMES M. CALDWELL has removed his Boot and Shoe Stock to the Brick house, occupied for some time past, by Mr. J. F. W. DELORME as a Drug Store, and the latter has removed his stock of Drugs, Modicines, &c., to the store on the corner of Republican and Main Streets, lately occupied by the former—a friendly swap, as is were, of locations. Success to both parties.

MAYES & COOPER.

Our planting friends of Mayesville and its sur roundings, are offered, by Messrs. Mayes & Cooper, an extended list of fertilizers, from which to choose, for application to their groups the pres ent year, as they will see, by reference to our advertising columns, and we take much pleasure in commending thom to a liberal patronage.

J. A. MAYES & CO.

This very worthy and reliable house, at Mayes ville, hoist their banner for 1870, in columns, with renewed energy, and, we are pleased to say, under encouraging prospects of a growing and success Drugs and Medicines, Groceries, best family Flour, &c. Their goods are all warranted, and their medicines may always be relied upon aspure. Our best wishes attend them.

OUR STOCK QUOTATIONS. The great fluctuation and uncertainty of value attending the commonest securities, since the war, render reliable and regular quotations of great interest to the public. We are, therefore, glad to be able to announce, among the other features of improvement and attraction which we shall endeavor to bring to our columns, on entering upon the new year, that we have made arrangements with Mr. A. C. KAUPMAN, of Charleston, to furnish us with weekly reports of those securities of most importance to our readers. Mr. KAUPHAN's quotations of Southern securities appear in the "Financial Chronicle" and "Wall Street Journal," of New York, and the Charleston "Courier," three of the leading financial and commercial papers of this country, and may be depended on as strictly accurate, for the day on which they are made.

THE RURAL CAROLINIAN.

Colonel D. Wyatt Aiken, one of the leading planters of this State, has become associated with Messrs. Walker, Evans & Cogswell as joint proprictor of this valuable agricultural monthly. In his notice announcing the connection, Colonel Aiken says; "In thus uniting myself with the enterprising firm of Mosers. Walker, Evans & Cogswell, more than a single motive will of course be laid at my door; but chief amongst the inducements is the carnest desire to lend a helping hand to develop and publish the developments of the agricultural interests of our beloved South. Whatever of agricultural advantages I may have gained after a practical plantation experience of near twenty years, shall be given to THE RURAL CAROLINIAN for the benefit of others."

Messrs. Walker, Evans & Cogswell state that Colonel Aiken "will devote his time to travelling through the Southern States, gathering practical information from all sections for the benefit of our readers, culisting correspondents, establishing agencies and extending our subscription list.

The January number of THE RURAL CAROLI-NIAN has intrinsic merit rarely equalled, and must secure a favorable consideration for the new firm. Among the contents we especially notice the articles on Fish Culture, Leibig and Agricultural Chemistry, Facts and Figures for Farmers, Agriculture of Russia, The Sea Island Cotton Question, and The Culture of the Olive-all of which are first-class articles of practical interest, and evidently written by men thoroughly conversant with the subjects of which they treat. The illus. trations of this number are numerous and handtome, and in appearance, as well as in contents, the January number of THE RURAL CAROLINIAN can fairly challenge comparison with any other agricultural magazine, North or South.

The proprietors of the XIX CENTURY

AGAZINE have the pleasure to announce that in the February number will be given the openin f a new Southern Romance, entitled "The Store and the Sunset," by Colonel Henry Cleveland, the talented author. We hardly need tell who Colonel Cleveland is, to the public where he is known so well. In 1869 he gave up a large law practice to become political editor of the Augusta (Ga.) Constitutionulist, and was a delegate the great Democratic Conventions of that year. He only left that paper when the South called her sons to the field, and (save when a prisoner) he was a soldier from the first month of the war to the last, mostly in field service. At the close of the war he retired to his fine plantation on the Georgia Railroad, and in 1866 published a blography of Vice-President Stephens, which had a large sale. Mr. Cleveland was one of the editors of "Appleton's Journal" in the first half year of it existence.

The XIX Century, now so well established and so popular, has on its lists the best writers in the Union, and at $3.50 a year, or $5 cents a copy, is cheaper than Harper's or the Atlantic Monthly. It is high toned, even in advertisements, and does not beg for patronage, but deserves it. Long live the "City between the Rivers" and its Magazine.—Charleston Courier, Dec. 27, 1869.

WESSTER'S UNABRIDGED DICTIONARY—ILLUS-TRATED EDITION.—No pains or labor could have been spaced in making this edition what it is.— We think this work, now, is all that we can ox-pect in a dictionary. We give it our unquified commendation, and hope to see a copy of it in every school-district, and in every editor's room, and in every family in Pennsylvania.—Presbyte-ian Standard.

r. Wn. Jeuson,

Dear Sir: —I am pleased to learn that you are e-introducing your Southern Soothing Syrup, which was used with so much bonefit in this city provious to and during the war. From a know edge I have of some of the ingredients, and the benefit that I have known derived from its use, I deemed it the best preparation ever used for the diseases of children, not only relieving pain, but invigorating the stomach and bowels, correcting acidity, and giving tone to the system at large

When Sherman introduced his Lozenges, he headed his advertisement "Children cry for them," you with great propriety might head yours "Mothers cry for it !" as it gives them peace and happiness in checking the crying and suffering of their children. Several families are anyious to obtain some of it immediately.

Respectfully yours, &c., (Signed) P. MELVIN COHEN, M D. REDIVIVUS !!

June 16-1y LET COMMON SENSE DECIDE. What is the rational mode of procedure in cases of general debility and norvous prostration? Does not reason tell us that judicious stimulation is required? To resort to violent purgation in such a case is as absurd as it would be to bleed a starving man. Yet it is done every day. Yes. this stupid and unphilosophical practice is continued in the teeth of the great fact that physica weakness, with all the nervous disturbance that accompany it, is more certainly and rapidly relieve' by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters than by any other medicine at present known. It is true that general debility is often attended with torpidity or irregularity of the bowels and that this symptom must not be overlooked. But while the discharge of the waste matter of the system is expedited or regulated, its vigor must be recruited. The Bitters do both. They combine aperient and anti-bilious properties, with extraordinary tonic power. Even while removing obstructions from he bowels, they tone and invigorate those organs Through the stomach, upon which the great vege able specific acts directly, it gives a healthy and permanent impetus to every enfeebled function. Digestion is facilitated, the faltering circu lation regulated, the blood reinforced with a new accession of the alimentary principle, the nerves braced, and all the dormant powers of the system roused into healthy action; not spasmodically, as would be the case if a more stimulant were administered, but for a continuance. It is in this way that such extraordinary changes are wrought in the condition of the feeble, emaciated and nervous invalids by the use of this wonder ful corrective, alterative and tonic. Let common sense decide between such a preparation and
